PRESERVATION RESTORATION PROTECTION

Dear Storm Water Professional,

I would like to personally invite you to participate as an attendee in Storm Water Awareness Week 2024. It's a virtual event that is 100% free and comprised of 40+ one-hour workshops on a variety of storm water topics. This event is intended to bring education and training to the storm water community from the storm water community at no charge.

Whether you are new in the industry and need a crash course in all things storm water, a pro who has been working in the storm water industry for many years and just wants to earn PDHs and hear all the latest storm water news, or someone who wants to expand their knowledge to grow in their career, Storm Water Awareness Week is for you. We have workshops for the construction, industrial, municipal, and storm water innovation sectors of the industry.

In order to attend, all you have to do is head over to our website and register for one or all of the available workshops. All of these workshops are being recorded, so if you can't make it to the live workshop, you will be able to watch the recording on our website. If that is the case, please still register so we know you are participating in the event! But, I hope you can make it to the live workshops - that way you can network, ask the presenters questions, and be part of the virtual event as it's happening.

I am so thrilled for all the amazing workshops and hosts we have lined up for 2024, and I hope you will be joining us for Storm Water Awareness Week. Enjoy the event!

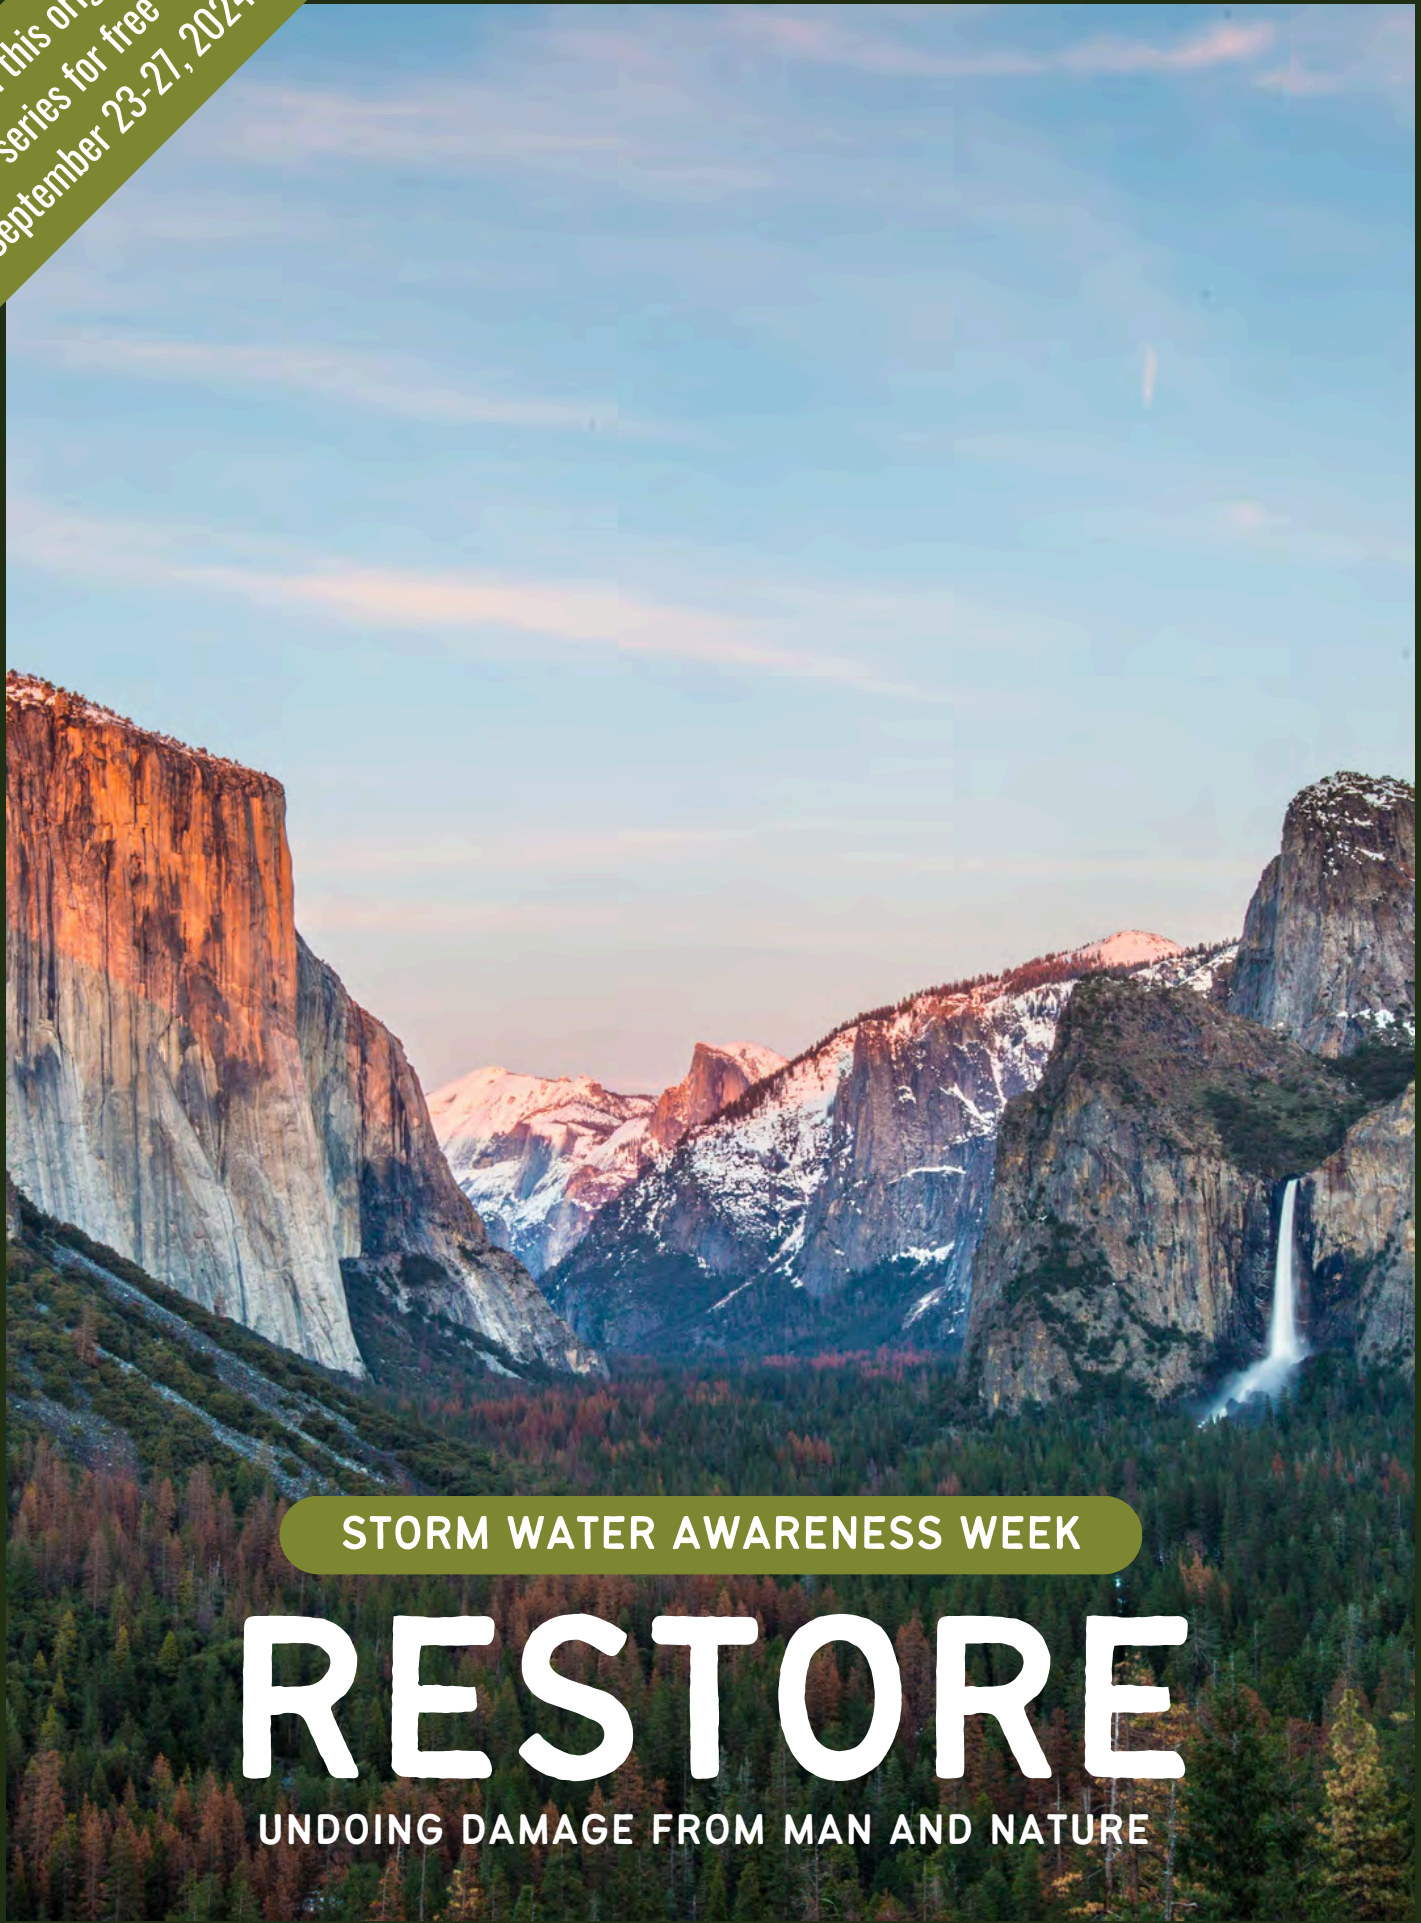

See you there,
